

ROBINSON'S GLADHAVEN

Grower - Importer - Exporter - Hybridist

— List 556 —

Sebastopol, California, U.S.A.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

THIS LIST cancels previous lists. Please preserve it for future reference. Regarding the WILD SPECIES, not always have enough to list, but can usually share what we have with fellow hybridists. You can always ask.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash with order, please. No orders accepted for less than $3.00.
California Customers: PLEASE ADD STATE SALES TAX.

ALL ORDERS are put up by myself and are good stock.

FOREIGN ORDERS must have necessary permits, tags, etc., and go at your expense.

* We Pay Postage in U.S. NO SUBSTITUTIONS without permission, but if you mention it in your order it may prevent delay in UNNECESSARY correspondence, and we can often send something better, may substitute sizes.

PLEASE ORDER EARLY—as our selling season is short. NO SMALL SIZES OR CORMELS after April first, as we start planting then.

CORMELS—Usually 10 cormels for price of one large corm—a few exceptions.

ALSO SEE OUR SPECIAL on these near bottom of page 2.

ALL ORDERS accepted subject to prior sale and crop.

MANY THANKS for nice letters, hope to continue to merit your business.

WHOLESALE—We do not issue a wholesale list as we can sell about all we raise retail—however always glad to co-operate—so send a list of your wants—quantity of each and sizes and will be glad to quote. We have many varieties too few to list herein.

TREATMENT—Mix 2 tablespoons of Lysol in gallon water; soak 3 hours; plant wet.

PLANTING—Start planting usually in your district when the Lilacs start blooming, and every ten days thereafter till June 1st, for continuous bloom till frost.

SPRAYING—Do not wait till thrip show up, play safe, start when they are six inches high, then once-a-week. Use 2 heaping tablespoons of 50 percent wettable DDT per gallon of water.

DIGGING—Start digging 6 to 8 weeks after flowering, do not wait till tops die down but at the first sign. We water 2 weeks after flowering, wait 4 weeks more and start digging. Start on the early ones first as they will usually be ready first.

Drying—in mild sunshine to 80 degrees F. If hotter, shade a little. 15 days to dry.

Storing—Don't have them too deep in your containers—not over 2 corms deep.

Cleaning—Three weeks after digging they clean the easiest—pull off old corm and roots and dust liberally with 5 or 10 percent DDT. Dust. Discard all diseased corms.

PLANT—L. & M. size 4" deep in heavy soil, 5" in sand. Small size, 3". Bulbets, 2".

LEGEND—Large is L. - Medium is M - Small is S.

IRIS

LEGEND—S. is for Standards; F. is for Falls; B. is Bicolor, or two colors.

ORDERS OF $3.00 or over prepaid. Smaller orders add 50c for packing and postage.

MOST BEAUTIFUL—WHAT IS OUR FAVORITE?

We are asked many times. That's a tough one, they're all beautiful and all different, so our only answer is we have a favorite in each color range and they follow herein. I do believe though if I had to settle for one Iris it would be WABASH, for surely with it's beautiful snow white standards and its rich velvety violet falls which are bordered white—surely there isn't any more beautiful.

Culture—Iris do well on most all soils if well drained. If your land is low and too wet in winter ridge them up.

Feeding—Old rotted cow manure is fine but do not pile it up against plants. Use just after blooming and again in the early spring, usually February in the West. When using commercial fertilizers get the most complete fertilizer you can find.

Watering—In dry areas do not let them dry out entirely. Keep constantly moist during blooming period.

SHIPMENT—When Ready. Usually from June through July, August and September.

on orders for either Iris or Gladiolus of $5.00 or more. And when Requested only. As we wouldn't want to send you something you didn't want. The selection of size must be left to us. Large bulbs will be sent while they last, then medium, and then small. Do not be disdainful of small Glad Bulbs, they are younger and have at least one more year before them, and remember good things sometimes come in small packages. Substitution of any of the 3 following varieties will be made if we run short, so get your order in right now while you can have first choice.

WARRATAH—Smokey (Robinson) No. 467813. A beautiful new Hybrid Gladoli offered for the first time, but you cannot buy them. Not for sale for 2 years, then $2.00 each. But you can have one free with an order for either Iris or Gladiolus of over $5.00, if requested.

ROBIN RED BREAST—See Glad List. This one may be had instead of Warratah if you wish or both with an order for over $10.00.

BLONDIE and the 2 above may be had with an order for $20.00 or over.

MADELENE C. and the 3 above, all can be had with an order for $25.00 or over. All four of them mind you. They're looking real good now, but get in your order early.

HONEY BUSH

If you have bees, be sure and order a few of these seed. Hardy bush or small tree 8-10 feet tall. Blooms from July to frost. Can produce to 1000 pounds of honey per acre. If in a dry location water thru the summer. Small Pkt. about 50 seed, $1.

HERBS—Ten Varieties Mixed Seed all in one small pkt. Postpaid for 50c.

WILD SPECIES

FALL ORDERS ONLY—September through October

SORRY FOLKS—Some of you were late again on these. Try and order by July.

Large Three Year Corms are the size of a dime. Small or S. are the size of a pea.

LEGEND—STBF, said to be fragrant, hasn't bloomed for us yet. CWG—GH, cool winter growers, cool greenhouse conditions 33 to 55 F. above zero. E.B., early bloomers, April and May. S.G., summer growers. E.B., dry up immediately after flowering, having been planted 7 months before S.G. It's only natural they should dry up 7 months sooner, so do not plant adjacent to summer growers because after drying up water should be withheld. PARTICULARLY BEAUTIFUL in front of base plantings etc. as they dry down in May when foliage can be removed—leave in ground as Perennials.

Hardy Gladoli— Some have withstood 30 F. below zero—Hardest in order named. First three about same hardiness. Plant in October.

BYZANTINUS RUBRA—Deep purple, tall grower, 30 below zero. Blooms here in May. L. each $1.00; 6 for $5.00. Growers unit 5 L. and 25 big cormels, $10.00.

COMMUNIS—Very similar to above, blooms here in May. Limit 3. Each $2.00.

SEGETUM—Small fls., carmine purple, blooming size. L. $1.00; 6 for $5.00. 20 F. below.

ILLYRICUS—Cute little dwarf, rich carmine, good breeder. Each L. $1.50; 4 for $5.00.

BYZANTINUS ALBA—Snow white, shy bloomer with us. Each $2.00. 20 F. below.

WE HAVE PRODUCED hybrids of some of above. You'll hear about them some day, I hope.

Half Hardy— TRISTIS, GRANDIS, GEN. SMUTT, TRISTIS RUBRA have withstood 19 F.

TRISTIS—Lovely light cream, green throat. Deliciously fragrant evenings. L. $1.00.

GEN. SMUTT—Red, Bigeneric cross, deliciously fragrant evenings. L. $25.00.

TRISTIS RUBRA—Similar to above. Limit 1 S., pea size, $25.00.

THRILLS GALORE, If it's thrills you like let us name a new Hybrid for you or a friend. Terms arranged according to value of Hybrid. YOU CAN GET the entire stock.

ANGABAZAN—(Robinson Hybrid) Augusta X Byzantinus. Amethyst. S. $25.00.

Following—

From my observation are not as hardy as the six above. They are winter growers, some of them would survive in very mild climate perhaps. A very good friend of mine has criticised my suggesting them as "cool Greenhouse subjects" (33 F. to 55 F. above zero), stating that no Gladiolus were Greenhouse plants. That is true in their native land, because they are native of semi-tropical climates, and since they insist on growing in winter. If a person lives in a climate that gets down to 40 below zero, and wants some of these charming little things, and can grow them other than in a cool Greenhouse I'd be most happy to learn about it. Some of them might possibly take 25 F. above, though I doubt it. ORCHIDS originally in the wilds weren't greenhouse plants either.

BLANDIS—Original Painted Ladies—inbred hybrids—mixed pastel shades. 2 L. $1.00. 12 L. for $4.00.

CARNATUS—Blue, lilac, lavender or yellow (STBF). S. $2.00.

ALATUS—Red, banded green. (STBF) S. $2.00.

DRACOCEPHLUS—Large corms, May, small green flowers. November, April delivery. $1.00.
